

Hello,

I write to you with great excitement to share yet another highlight in Intellectap's evolving story. The World Economic Forum has selected Intellectap Co-Founder Manju George as a 'Global Shaper' in recognition of her work in the area of business for development.

Manju will attend the Forum's annual meeting in Davos, Switzerland from 25-29 January, 2012. She will speak at the closing plenary - 'Leadership across generations' - along with Nobel Prize Winner Prof. Muhammad Yunus, Prof. Klaus Schwab, the founder of the World Economic Forum and three Global Shapers from across the world.

In November 2011, Manju also participated in the India Economic Summit in Mumbai in November 2011. The Global Shapers Community, launched in 2011, is the newest community formed by the World Economic Forum to give young leaders a global platform to shape the future.

At Intellectap, we are delighted at this recognition which serves as a motivation to all of us to work harder to bring the business and development worlds together.

The theme for Davos 2012 is The Great Transformation: Shaping New Models. Happening in the backdrop of the Eurozone debt crisis and rising youth unemployment, there will be significant deliberations on new leadership and business models, inclusive growth, youth and job creation. We believe social entrepreneurs, impact investors and inclusive businesses have a significant role to play in shaping these discussions and outcomes. We'd love to hear your thoughts now and while we're in Davos. Follow Manju on Twitter at @george_manju to hear real time updates, and share your thoughts with her.

Best,
Vineet Rai
